Future of Integrated Care Systems

Four fundamental purposes for integrated care systems:

1. Improving population health and healthcare
2. Tackling unequal outcomes and access
3. Enhancing productivity and value for money
4. Helping the NHS to support broader social and economic development

This involves the following changes:

- Stronger partnerships in local places between NHS, local councils and others;
- Formal collaborative arrangements for provider organisations that allow them to operate at scale;
- System-wide strategic commissioning with a focus on population health

Working with the VCSE sector

Role of VCSE in Integrated Care Systems

The VCSE sector is an essential system transformation, innovation and integration partner. It has a key role to play in;

- ICS governance and decision making arrangements
- System workforce and operational delivery plans
- Strategic partner supporting the capability and functions of ICS's to deliver integrated care
- Shaping, improving and delivering services and developing and delivering plans to tackle the wider determinants of health
- Population Health Management - capturing and sharing data, intelligence and insight into the needs of people and communities

Embedding VCSE sector in Integrated Care Systems

NHS England

We expect that by April 2022 Integrated Care Partnerships and the ICS NHS body will develop a formal agreement for engaging and embedding the VCSE sector in system level governance and decision-making arrangements, ideally by working through a VCSE alliance to reflect the diversity of the sector.

- Social prescribing

Capacity of VCSE boosted by being a funded delivery partner

- £1.2 million from acute sector in VCSE in Hillingdon for out of hospital care.
